SUFFRAGE DIES IN EUROPE, MME. SCHWIMMERSAYS

Pacifist Tells of Ruin of Hungary.

Mme. Rosika Schwimmer, international suffragist, leading lady on the Ford peace ship, erstwhile ambassador and minister plenipotentiary from the republic of Hungary to the republic of Switzerland, and for whose presence here department of justice officials are said to have been trying to account, was found in Chicago last night by a Tribune reporter.

A plump little woman, comfortably ensconced in a cushioned chair before a fireplace in which the embers of a giant log were burning—she talked of things that have been, things that are, and things that will be. She is a guest at the home of Mrs. Lola Lloyd, 445 1st street, Winnetka.

"Haven't been hiding."

"No, it isn't generally known that I'm in America again," she said, "but I have not been hiding my presence here. How did I come in? Why, on a passport, certainly, through New York City. In my own name? Of course."

"Will you tell something of your past and of your plans for the future?" she was asked.

"I'll be glad to—but I'm afraid it will be tiresome to most. You know I came here first in 1914 to get President Wilson to use his influence as a neutral to attempt to end the war."

"I stayed here then until 1916. It was my suggestion that caused the famous Ford peace trip to Copenhagen on the Oscar II. I addressed numerous meetings here. And on my return to my country I was named ambassador to Switzerland—the first woman to hold a similar post."

Red Here—White in Hungary.

"Then when Bela Kun overthrew our plans for a republic I quit. There's a funny thing about that. When I was in the United States I was regarded as a radical, an I. W. W., a German spy, a pacifist. When Bela Kun took charge I was branded an ultraconservative, and was charged with spreading propaganda against the bolshevik movement. So I left Hungary. For the last year and a half I've been all over Europe. Now I'm here—"

"What do you think of suffrage in Europe now?"

"Stagnant—the movement is almost gone."

"Is there any danger of Austria and Hungary going bolshevik at this time?"

"I believe there would be a monarchy before a soviet. There wouldn't be any radical propaganda afloat if there were some way for the allies to stabilize and rejuvenate our industries so the people could produce."

No More Soviets in Europe.

"What do you believe the best sort of government for the nations of Europe would be?"

"A good, plain, healthy, democratic government—a monarchy and most decidedly not a soviet—the one means tyranny, the other means dictatorship, which is worse. I'm not a politician, propagandist—I'm a suffragist and a pacifist. My main object is to keep peace."

"Do you notice any difference in America between your visit here now and your last trip?"

"U. S. Is Saneer."

"Indeed I do. The whole country is saneer. It is tackling the problem of reconstruction cheerfully. You'll get somewhere."

"How long do you expect to remain here?"

"I don't know. I'm writing a few articles now. My health isn't of the best—my nerves have been bad for some months. I don't know when I'll be able to go again. I'd like to stay a good, long while—my friends are so kind."

Mme. Schwimmer said she had to wait three months to get her passport renewed, and she expressed the hope that she wouldn't have to wait that long in case she wanted to go back.

CRIME IN JUVENILES, ALOPECIA IN ADULTS, CURABLE VIA GLANDS

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 5.—(Criminal inclination and incompetency in children may be prevented at inception by proper treatment of the various glands that govern the body and the dietary regulation of food, Dr. H. P. Friedenberg of New York told the Pennsylvania Medical society in convention tonight.

Truancy, dishonesty and criminal tendencies in juveniles are the results of disease which may be traced to the thyroid or other glands distributing the secretions of the body to the various organs, he said.

The endocrine system is all of the secretory glands of the body whose functions are not definitely known to medical science, but which that science had learned to control.

Hair can be made to grow on bald heads; short men can be made to grow several inches; fat men can be made slender and graceful—all by proper treatment of the various glands that constitute the endocrine, he said.

ALL WORLD TRIES TO TORPEDO U. S. OFF SEA: LASKER

New York, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Foreign interests are silently but surely working to undermine the American merchant marine, for which they can not be blamed, Chairman Lasker, United States shipping board, said today at a luncheon of the Advertising Club of New York in the Hotel Commodore.

This statement followed his explanation of the reasons for and the provisions of the Jones bill. He said that the measure was framed on the assumption that an American merchant marine could not be established without extraneous assistance.

"This bill," he said, "must be given life by the present board. The hostile forces from within and without sowing seeds of discord and distrust must be quashed and the American flag must be carried in carrying trade to within its own borders."

TRENCH CAVE-IN BURIES MAN 12 MINUTES; UNHURT

Peter Reding, 30, 1146 Ashland avenue, Evanston, was nearly suffocated last night when a trench he was digging by lantern light at 807 Ashbury street, the home of his brother-in-law, caved in and he was buried twelve minutes before rescuers dug him out.

When he was released he stepped from the trench unhurt and had to help his brother-in-law, George Schmidt, who was exhausted from digging.

TEXAN DIES OF WOUNDS HE GOT IN KLAN BATTLE

Waco, Tex., Oct. 5.—With the death today of Louis Crow, 61, from wounds received in a fight at Lorena Saturday night, when Sheriff Bob Buchanan attempted to stop a Ku Klux Klan parade, announcement of the date when the McLennan county grand jury will be summoned to investigate the incident was awaited here with keen interest.

Until a late hour tonight neither District Judge R. I. Munroe nor County Attorney F. E. Terry had indicated when the jury would be called. Ten men were injured during the fight. Crow's death was the first. Sheriff Buchanan and Ed Howard, a spectator, were seriously wounded.

STINNES FACES CRIMINAL TRIAL IN ESSEN COURT

Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service. BERLIN, Oct. 5.—Accused of cheating the German war department out of millions of marks by not paying war prisoners their full wages, Hugo Stinnes & Co. faced criminal trial at Essen today.

This case is the first official attention to numerous charges, many of them made openly by Socialists in the reichstag, that Herr Stinnes was Germany's greatest war profiteer; that he sold war materials to both sides through his affiliations in neutral countries, and that he systematically ordered the destruction of certain Belgian and French industries for no other reason than to prevent the reconstruction of these rival industries after the war.

It is believed that enormous legal consequences will result from the Essen trial. If the test case is successful, the war department hopes to recover many millions. Herr Stinnes is the "richest man in Germany today, controlling coal mines, shipping and industries of all kinds.

PARIS TRAINS BURN IN TUBE, 33 KNOWN DEAD

PARIS, Oct. 5.—(By Associated Press.)—Seventeen of those injured in the tunnel wreck have died in hospitals, according to the Havas Agency, bringing the total number of dead in the disaster to thirty-three. Exploration of the seventeen burned cars has not yet been possible, and it is feared that they contain additional victims.

PARIS, Oct. 5.—Fire raging in the wreckage of two suburban trains which collided in the Batignolles tunnel, 300 yards from Gare St. Lazare, prevented any estimate at 9 o'clock tonight of the number of passengers believed to have met death. It is feared, however, that the toll of death will be high, as the average number carried in Paris suburban coaches exceeds 100.

The first firemen and soldiers to reach the scene succeeded in carrying out the bodies of five dead. Eleven more bodies were found later near entrance to the tunnel, making the known dead sixteen. More than 100 injured were rescued. Many of these were seriously hurt.

The flames spread rapidly through the coaches and filled the tunnel, preventing entrance from either end. Firemen worked frantically, cutting a hole through the pavement of Rue de Rome and into the roof of the tunnel.

Trains for Versailles Collide.

The collision occurred at 6:15 o'clock. A train for Versailles, loaded with commuters, stopped in the tunnel while a broken coupling was being repaired. A second Versailles train crashed into the rear of it.

A tank filled with illuminating gas exploded. The flames shot from car to car. Six cars were on fire as frightened and slightly injured passengers raced to safety out of the tunnel.

Fire, heat, and smoke drove back firemen and soldiers who had rushed into the tunnel to rescue the injured. The last fireman to leave the tunnel declared seventeen carriages were then on fire.

As flames shot out from each end of the tunnel, firemen directed streams of water into the bore. From within came cries and moans of the dying.

More gas tanks exploded filling the tunnel with poisonous fumes. Despite the fact that the heat and gases held the firemen several hundred feet from the mouth of the tunnel, a few survivors, with faces and bodies burned and blackened, fought their way out of the inferno.

100,000 Stranded in Paris.

More than 100,000 commuters leave Paris for their homes every evening on trains going out of St. Lazare station. Vast crowds gathered about the station and there was no end of confusion. Gendarmes dispersed them or directed them to barracks, which the government opened as sleeping quarters for the stranded suburbanites.

The wreck is considered one of the worst in the railroad history of France. The tunnel in which it occurred is a half mile long. It leads from St. Lazare station. It was dark when the collision occurred.

Authorities declared that identification of those trapped in the burning wreckage would probably never be possible. The heat coming from the mouths of the tunnel was so intense that they felt certain any bodies in the wreckage must be burned to cinders.

A BABY in its first year, Patrick figured, is only a wad of flesh. And Pamela intended to see the infant as little as possible, so as not to bore it.

WALKS PAST BARS IN ROLE OF CELLMATE

Justice is blind. Ben Lieberman, a suspect in the Klein loan bank robbery of recent memory, last night proved it.

Mr. Lieberman was seized about two years ago in connection with the hold-up in the loan bank, which is located in the Brevoort hotel building. Some $30,000 changed hands in the robbery, which occurred in December, 1919. The case raised much furor at the time, and eventually Lieberman was held in $50,000 bonds. He skipped the bonds. He was picked up in Detroit for carrying concealed weapons and sentenced to a year in prison. Last week Serg. Birmingham of the Chicago detective bureau went to Michigan and brought him back.

The Bond Was O. K.

Lieberman was placed in a cell with George Williams, in defiance under $3,000 bonds on a robbery charge. Shortly before midnight last night Mrs. Anita Lieberman, 1533 Roosevelt road, appeared at the jail with a bond for $5,000, approved by Judge Adams of the Municipal court, calling for the deliverance of George Williams.

Assistant Jailor William Charvet, who was on duty for the second time only, received Mrs. Lieberman, looked at the bonds, noted their genuineness, and called out for George Williams to appear. A man strolled up. Charvet did not know him, and unlocked the door. The man and Mrs. Lieberman walked away.

Denies Collusion.

One of the formalities of releasing a prisoner on bond calls for his signature. Lieberman signed the name of George Williams. Some time later in checking up on the signature the forgery was discovered. Charvet went back into the cell and found Williams asleep.

Jailer Lawrence was notified and repaired to the jail to interrogate several persons, among them being Williams. He suspects Williams was in collusion with Lieberman. Williams denies collusion. He says he didn't hear his name called.

BROTHER SHOOT BROTHER ACTING AS PEACEMAKER

Scuffle Over Gun May Prove Fatal.

Oscar Gren, 12 years old, 5614 South Racine avenue, attempted to act as peacemaker between his 16-year-old brother and Harry Greenberg, a 6-year-old neighbor boy, yesterday. Last night with a bullet just below his heart, he was said to be dying in German Deaconess hospital. The older brother was held by the police pending the outcome of his brother's fight for life.

Yesterday the brother, Magnus, formerly an inmate of St. Charles School for Boys, met a friend, Stanley Kad, who lives in the vicinity of South Kedzie avenue and West 43d street. Kad had a pistol, the property of his father. "Let me take it," Magnus said. "Sure," said Kad.

Boy Takes Pistol Home.

Magnus took the pistol. At his home he removed the bullets and sawed the ends from them—the deadly dum-dum of the battlefield.

Then he went outside. His younger brother, Oscar, was playing on the sidewalk with the Greenberg child. The gun was in a holster on Magnus' hip. The Greenberg boy noticed it. "What's that?" he asked. "A gun—a real gun," Magnus replied. "Let me see it?" the Greenberg boy pleaded.

Magnus took the gun out. The 6-year-old boy took it in his hands. Then, babylike, he wanted to play with it while. To this Magnus Gren objected. And then began an argument.

The Greenberg boy held on to the gun. The older lad grabbed one end of it. The little lad was knocked down on the ground.

His brother, Oscar, attempted to interfere. "Don't hurt him, Magnus," he pleaded. Then finally the two lads were separated. Magnus Gren stood upright, pointing the gun at the Greenberg lad.

Neighbors rushing from the house found Magnus standing on the sidewalk with the smoking pistol. His brother, Oscar, lay at his feet. The Greenberg boy was crying.

Magnus Grenberg was locked up in a cell at Englewood police station. "I didn't mean to do it—I didn't mean to do it," was all he'd say.

THE ETERNAL TRIANGLE

A delightful BLUE RIBBON short story in Sunday's Tribune

CHICAGO SWEAT SHOP PEONAGE FOR VETS BARED

Startling Charge by Relief Board Chief.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Thirty thousand crippled soldiers of the world war are being exploited in "mushroom" vocational training institutions and farmed out by the government to sweat shops in virtual slavery.

This was the sensational charge made today by Col. Charles R. Forbes, director of the United States Veterans' bureau, in commenting upon a report he transmitted President Harding disclosing deplorable conditions in the vocational training system in Chicago.

Col. Forbes issued orders discontinuing a number of private Chicago schools as vocational training institutions because the former soldiers were not receiving the proper instruction.

Greed of Employers, Charged.

The director also found that the vocationally trained former soldiers were being exploited by Chicago employers in some instances.

As a result of his observations, Col. Forbes urges the establishment of at least four national schools to train service men in all phases of their chosen vocations in order to eliminate the evils attendant upon the farming out of veterans to contract commercial and industrial institutions.

"We have been farming men out to cheap training establishments, exploiting heroes of the war for the benefit of 'mushroom' institutions, created for the purpose of getting federal trainees and government money," Col. Forbes said.

"Furthermore, the government has furnished these privately managed training shops with their machinery and equipment. I propose to close every 'mushroom' institution. There are forty or fifty different types of these. I figure there are 30,000 veterans of the total 100,000 now receiving vocational training in places of this character.

A Rotten Deal, He Says.

"Isn't it rotten on the face of it? It is nothing short of slavery to put men in certain types of these institutions. We want to establish schools so the men will be honestly and properly rehabilitated instead of destroying their morale. We are going to give better study to the physical, mental, and moral side of each man given into our care."

In his report to the President, Col. Forbes said in reference to his observations of the vocational training system in Chicago:

"In Chicago, the character and scope of vocational training being offered by the government was reviewed at some length. I found in some instances that the schools of institutions under contract with the government were not giving the type of instruction which the government had a right to expect, and which its beneficiaries should receive, and after a thorough survey of the situation I gave orders for the discontinuance of training in certain institutions.

Government Isn't Vigilant.

"Instances also were found where the trainees of the government were being exploited by their employers, and where the government was not as vigilant as it should have been in the interest of its disabled ex-service men and women. I went into this condition thoroughly with the authorities at Chicago and believe the conditions are now somewhat rectified."

Col. Forbes said he would be unable to give until tomorrow the names of the Chicago institutions discontinued. The remainder of the Forbes report on Chicago follows:

"There is a very pressing need here for the proper hospitalization of two types of cases—tuberculosis and mental diseases. I recommend that the Speedway hospital be immediately rushed to completion.

Plans for Great Lakes.

"While in Chicago I inspected the Naval Training station at Great Lakes, and recommended that that part of the station known as Camp Ross be transferred to the Veterans' bureau. At present Camp Ross is unoccupied. There is a battery of steel buildings providing a capacity for 300 patients. The camp is well located with a good climate and can be made ready for occupancy within sixty days. I have in mind, should Camp Ross be transferred to the Veterans' bureau, that the navy should be called upon to operate this institution on account of the close proximity of Camp Ross to the naval reservation, and the obvious necessity for using a common heating plant and other facilities, which

Startling Charge by Relief Board Chief.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Thirty thousand crippled soldiers of the world war are being exploited in "mushroom" vocational training institutions and farmed out by the government to sweat shops in virtual slavery.

This was the sensational charge made today by Col. Charles R. Forbes, director of the United States Veterans' bureau, in commenting upon a report he transmitted President Harding disclosing deplorable conditions in the vocational training system in Chicago.

Col. Forbes issued orders discontinuing a number of private Chicago schools as vocational training institutions because the former soldiers were not receiving the proper instruction.

Greed of Employers, Charged.

The director also found that the vocationally trained former soldiers were being exploited by Chicago employers in some instances.

As a result of his observations, Col. Forbes urges the establishment of at least four national schools to train service men in all phases of their chosen vocations in order to eliminate the evils attendant upon the farming out of veterans to contract commercial and industrial institutions.

"We have been farming men out to cheap training establishments, exploiting heroes of the war for the benefit of 'mushroom' institutions, created for the purpose of getting federal trainees and government money," Col. Forbes said.

"Furthermore, the government has furnished these privately managed training shops with their machinery and equipment. I propose to close every 'mushroom' institution. There are forty or fifty different types of these. I figure there are 30,000 veterans of the total 100,000 now receiving vocational training in places of this character.

TRADE BOOM WHITS GERMANY; BANKS CAUTION

Buyers with Cheap Marks

BY GEORGE SELDES.

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—Germany's industrial and account of the artificial money market has become feverish and unhealthy. From outward appearances it would appear that a great rush of business had come here. The machinery, glass, and ceramic industries have been especially rushed with orders, and the exporters in these lines are selling everything in their stock. The German chamber of commerce reports that many industries have sold out their products for the next three or four months.

This rush in business is due almost entirely to foreigners' purchasing marks cheaply and buying German goods just before the industries, acting on the advice of the reichsbank, raised their prices or marked every article in advance and cents, practically abandoning German money for export trade. The present remarkable trade is not good for Germany's present and future trade, as almost every one realizes. Nevertheless much selling is still going on.

Open East Asia Trade.
Hamburg, Bremen, and other ports on busy, several plants resuming work. Firms in these ports are opening their East Asia and China offices in order to the resumption of trade. According to German reports, American, British, and British competition has succeeded in cutting Germany from these markets.

Textile industries are suffering from a lack of ready goods owing to the heavy demand. Purchase prices are about 10 to 100 per cent higher and the National Retailers' association threatens to boycott the textile wholesalers who take undue advantage of the inflated conditions.

On Freight Rates.
Concerning ocean freights the "International Trade Journal" says: "The international freight market has suffered enormously chiefly because the rates do not cover expenses. American markets are worst for German companies, because the American shipping authorities have again raised the rates for grain. As a consequence our commercial fleet will have greater losses than ever, and it is doubtful whether a freight rate reduction will improve the grain market."

Owing to the sinking in the value of the mark the customs authorities have inaugurated a new scale for customs duties. Whereas previously 100 per cent was added on account of the relation of the paper mark to the gold mark, beginning with Oct. 20 the authorities will reckon on 1,900 per cent.

Improvement in Coal.
Hard coal production in the Ruhr district is increasing 1,000 tons daily, and the Upper Silesia output has increased. America is offering coal for 20 marks a ton at Hamburg, and England is offering it for 550 marks a ton.

Germany has an excellent harvest, especially in the grains. The grain, especially wheat, but excluding oats, has increased, while oats have not changed. The production of winter wheat is estimated at 2,370,000 tons, compared with 1,850,000 tons last year. Rye will give 6,500,000 tons, as compared with 4,800,000 last year. Summer wheat and rye is slightly behind last year's crop. The potato crop is slightly behind, but the quality is better. Sugar beets have improved, but the crop is below the average. The holder situation is bad, especially hay, which is causing some slaughtering of cattle.

Warning by Reichsbank.
The warning by the directors of the reichsbank was contained in a statement sent to the government's export director.

The statement shows that while the world is worrying about Germany dumping goods on the foreign market, Germany is worrying about the exchange dumping and the spoiling of trade.

The national bank statement expressed a fear that German industries are selling too cheaply, with the result that they will hurt their future prices. All Germany has become a free sale. However, when the government collects the heavy export taxes it is getting only a small amount in gold value.

The situation likewise, says the statement, makes it possible for future anti-dumping laws.

To Raise $500,000,000.
Germany's great international credit plan, involving from $275,000,000 to $500,000,000, will be underwritten not only by the National Association of Industrialists but also by the bank association and the now forming association of real estate owners throughout the nation, according to a statement made by a well informed person tonight.

The industries, banks, and real estate owners each will guarantee the other, each plan is being worked out to have the triple alliance guarantee the government's financial stability. It is expected that the credit can be increased to over $500,000,000. Hugo Stinnes is among the members of the board named to arrange for the credits.

CAPTIVITY MAKES THE BITTERN BITTER

Here we have "Mickey," the mother of four Blenheim spaniels and the protector of the kittens pictured, all of whom were assailed yesterday by a hungry bittern, which strove to carry off one of the mixed family.

Here is Miss Ella M. Ritt of 1010 North Wells street, who saw the bittern growing biter'n bitter (that's pretty good), and seized it just as it was about to snatch one of the dog-cat family. Miss Ritt was scratched some in the fight.

U. S. RELIEF PUTS PEP IN RUSSIA'S HUNGRY MASSES

Yankee Work Praised

RIGA, Oct. 5.—"One of the best effects of the American relief administration work in Russia is the example of efficiency and promptness which is being set for the Russian people, M. Kalenin, chairman of the Russian committee for famine relief, told me," said Dr. Vernon Kellogg of Lehigh University and one of Herbert Hoover's right hand men, before leaving here for London yesterday.

M. Kalenin said the famine condition could only be solved by the action of the peasants themselves. Dr. Kellogg continued: "The peasant leader said the work of the American relief administration was appreciated by the government, but it is merely an alleviation unless the peasants arouse themselves and take means to prevent a recurrence of the disaster."

Dr. Kellogg said the American relief expected to be able to feed 500,000 children during October, 800,000 in November, and 1,000,000 before the end of the year. He said that there was no justification for suspicions that the Red army had tried to divert any relief supplies, there not being a single case of a seal on a train being broken. The warehouses are amply and conscientiously guarded.

Search Relief Courier.
RIGA, Latvia, Oct. 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—An American Relief administration courier, on the way from Petrograd to Riga by way of Revel, was searched and some of his personal effects seized by the Russian soviet frontier authorities at Yamburg, near Narva, Esthonia, on Thursday, he reported on his arrival here today. He brought a sealed pouch containing relief administration correspondence, which he said he only saved from seizure by the soviet authorities after a struggle.

British Give War Supplies.
LONDON, Oct. 4.—It is said the British government has decided to transfer to the British Red Cross for famine relief distribution in Russia, certain surplus war stores, consisting in part of medicines and clothing. These stores, valued at approximately $250,000, are now being held at disposal of the Red Cross board.

THREE GROCERY STORES ROBBED.
Stores of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea company at 5008 Prairie avenue and 9454 St. Lawrence avenue and a cooperative store at 300 East 81st street were robbed of a total of $115 yesterday by the same bandit.

WASHINGTON NEWS —IN BRIEF—

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 5.—Col. Charles R. Forbes, director of the veterans' bureau, in a report to President Harding charges that 30,000 crippled heroes are being exploited in "mushroom" vocational training institutions and farmed out to sweatshops by the government. In Chicago he found conditions particularly unsatisfactory.

Chief Justice Taft told the senate judiciary committee today, in urging the creation of eighteen new federal judgeships, that he believed vibrations of the prohibition law would greatly increase.

Democratic members of the senate finance committee, in a minority report on the tax revision bill, declared it failed to provide for simplification and equalization of the income and corporation taxes or repeal of obnoxious taxes and that it would relieve the corporations and ultra rich of hundreds of millions in taxes, which would be shifted to the shoulders of the masses.

The National League for Prevention of Spinal Curvature has offered prizes of $1,000 and $500 for the American woman and child with perfect spine and back, prizes to be awarded from typoids.

Secretary of War Weeks has announced that promotions in the army to the rank of brigadier general in the future will be based on merit.

The senate investigating committee was told today by a Baptist missionary in Haiti that the island revolutions before the American occupation were incited by German propaganda and financed by German money.

HAYS EXPELS
POSTMASTER AT ROCKFORD, ILL.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 5.—William H. Hefferan, postmaster at Rockford, Ill., was removed from office today in an order, signed by Postmaster General Hays, charging "gross neglect of duty."

The order named Arthur L. Johnson to succeed Hefferan. Details of the charges were not announced. Attorney General Daugherty today requested the resignation of William R. Palmer, United States marshal for Connecticut. The only statement concerning the request forthcoming from the attorney general was that he "deemed it expedient to make a change in the office."

A drug clerk who said he had sold insect exterminator to the defendant in August, 1920, testified that the purchase was of an unusual amount, and that at the time he said to the defendant: "What in the world are you going to do with it all?" To which the defendant replied that it was to go to a ranch. The witness fixed the date of the purchase as about Aug. 13, or immediately after, last year.

Resuming his testimony after the noon recess, Dr. Coughlin said that on the afternoon of Sept. 6 he discussed with Meyer and the defendant the advisability of dispensing with the services of the special nurse in charge of the case. That evening, he said, Meyer was taken violently ill, all the old symptoms reappeared themselves, and the patient grew steadily worse until death ensued the next day.

TYPHOID OR BUG POWDER, ENIGMA FOR IDAHO JURY

"Fair Bluebeard's"
Fate in Answer.

Twin Falls, Idaho, Oct. 5.—That the typhoid test for typhoid was reliable and that blood taken from the body of Edward F. Meyer thirty hours prior to his death, reacted positively to the test, was drawn from Dr. J. F. Coughlin, witness for the state in the case of Lydia Meyer Southard, charged with the murder of Meyer, her former husband.

Dr. Coughlin told a lengthy story of his connection with the case from the time he was first called until the death of Meyer, Sept. 7, 1920.

Doctor's Opinion Changed.
He had previously stated that in his opinion ptomaine poisoning was responsible for Meyer's death, but in explanation of the signing of the death certificate which attributed death to typhoid, declared he was guided by the tests made by the pathologist of the Twin Falls county hospital, which tests showed a positive reaction, indicating Meyer was suffering from typhoid.

Meyer's temperature, the hospital record showed, was at all times subnormal, and he grew steadily weaker until death ensued, and for the most part Mrs. Meyer had free access to his room and spent considerable time there. On one occasion she stated that she "knew her husband could not get better," according to one of the witnesses.

Sold Her Insect Powder.
A drug clerk who said he had sold insect exterminator to the defendant in August, 1920, testified that the purchase was of an unusual amount, and that at the time he said to the defendant: "What in the world are you going to do with it all?" Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—The chair used by Theodore Roosevelt at his desk at the White House was presented formally by President Harding today to the Roosevelt Memorial association.

The gift was received by a committee headed by William Boyce Thompson, president of the association, and will be placed in a collection of Roosevelt memorabilia now being assembled.

In presenting the chair President Harding praised the purposes of the memorial association and added: "I think we are all agreed that there are few individuals in all the story of civilization who have left a greater impress than Col. Roosevelt."

"I have, as you have, a very large estimate of his wonderful place in the life of the American people and the progress of the world."

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
LONDON, Oct. 5.—Both the British treasury and foreign office deny categorically the story printed in the daily Express today that Washington was pressing for the immediate repayment of the British war debt.

The British position is that they are going to pay, but they need time. The suggestion made two years ago for an all-around forgiveness of debts was received without enthusiasm in Washington, and the British will make no further move.

If immediate payment is demanded, Great Britain will have to make similar demands on France, Serbia, Italy and the other allies to whom it lent more than it borrowed from the United States.

LLOYD GEORGE MIXES FINANCE WITH HAM AND—

First Day in London
Keeps Him Jumping.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
Copyright, 1921, By The Chicago Tribune.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Prime Minister Lloyd George arrived in London from Inverness at 7:45 this morning and was up to his ears in work within a few minutes. He was met at the station by A. McCurdy, chief coalition whip, who drove with him to 10 Downing street, discussing the political situation en route.

At Downing street the prime minister found Sir Robert Horne, the chancellor of the exchequer, waiting. With Sir Robert he discussed the national finances over ham and eggs.

Meets Labor Delegates.
At 10 o'clock he received J. R. Clynes, the leader of the labor party, with whom he had a private conference on unemployment for an hour. At 11 o'clock he received a deputation of thirty from the general council of labor, who presented resolutions demanding government action for the relief of the unemployed, which were passed by the trade union congress.

After listening to the labor representatives the prime minister asked them to appoint a small delegation which would be available for conference with the government constantly on the present national emergency. The delegation promised to report to the council and to give an early reply.

Cabinet in Session Today.
The rest of the day was spent in conferring with cabinet ministers, secretaries, and officials in preparation for the cabinet meeting tomorrow at which the cabinet will consider the question of unemployment, a means to revive national trade, the selection of the delegates to the Irish conference and the selection of the delegation to the League of Nations conference. Also it will be provisionally decided at the session, whether Mr. Lloyd George will join the Washington delegation.

The police cleared the genuine unemployed and their leaders from responsibility for the riot in Trafalgar square last night, declaring that the trouble was caused by a small group of Communists who started a row in which some of the unemployed were involved. The authorities praised the conduct of the genuine unemployed who did all in their power to preserve order and to obey the police instructions.

Wife Says He Lavishes
Pay on Others.

It does not pay for a wife to be a drab little church mouse while her husband lavishes his wealth like a "Prince Charming" on his friends, Mrs. Blanche Smith, 1239 Dearborn street, averred yesterday in a bill for divorce, filed against Daniel W. Smith, general manager of the Chicago branch of a Willis Sainte Claire, Motor company, 1631 South Michigan avenue.

Mr. Smith's income is said to be in the neighborhood of $50,000 a year, and according to Mrs. Smith, most of it is spent with the gay abandon of a "Crocus," while she has been forced to sit at home patiently waiting till early morning for his return.

Mrs. Smith's Second Suit.
This is the second divorce suit filed by Mrs. Smith. Two years ago she filed a bill, but it was dismissed, according to her attorney, Jay Fred Reeve, when Smith pleaded with her to give him another chance. In that bill Mrs. Smith charged her husband with indiscretion with women.

In her bill yesterday she alleged her husband had been continuously intoxicated for more than two years. They were married July 14, 1908. Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Harry Hubbard, a wealthy real estate dealer.

Has Husband Arrested.
Mrs. Smith had her husband arrested Monday night at the South Clark street station and taken to the Morale court the following morning, where the case was continued till Oct. 11, pending the filing of the bill for divorce.

SPURIOUS, SAYS MRS. ROOSEVELT OF $69,900 NOTE

Mrs. Burkett's Claim Is Unjustified, She Avers.

New York, Oct. 5.—[Special.]—Mrs. Edith Kermit Roosevelt, widow of Theodore Roosevelt, was a witness today in Part IV of general sessions at the trial of Mrs. Emma Richardson Burkett of Hilldale, Ind., on a charge of forgery. Mrs. Burkett is charged with having placed Col. Roosevelt's name on a note for $69,900, made out to herself.

Mrs. Roosevelt was accompanied by her cousin, George Emilen Roosevelt. He managed Roosevelt's business affairs and is an executor of his estate. Mrs. Burkett was indicted in July and "extradited from Indiana. Her story of the note relates that Col. Roosevelt signed it at the time of the Republican convention at Chicago in June, 1912, when the Bull Moose insurgents were about to start.

Her Story of the Loan.
Mrs. Burkett said she was introduced to the colonel by a former cowboy who was helping him in his plans for a new party. She says she advanced him the $69,900 to help pay his campaign expenses on the promise to repay it in eight years with interest.

Last year she presented her claim to the Roosevelt executors and they denied it. Then she presented the note to a bank and an investigation followed.

Mrs. Roosevelt "was dressed in deep mourning as she took the stand. She was shown the note, which is endorsed by "Col. Theodore Roosevelt." She pronounced it to be clearly a forgery, adding that throughout his life Roosevelt never used any signature but "Theodore Roosevelt," and never prepared to that any title.

Colonel Didn't Need Money.
Mrs. Roosevelt said she was with the colonel during the Chicago convention of 1912, and never heard him speak of Mrs. Burkett or any loan she might have advanced him. She further testified that "a friend" of her husband told him in her presence that he had not been given money with which to carry on his campaign in case a break with the Republican organization came; that money would be supplied from the friend's pocket.

Samuel T. Jones, assistant cashier of the Chemical National bank, displayed a signature book twenty-five years old. It contained the colonel's signature—Theodore Roosevelt—at the time he opened an account.

LEAGUE FEARS RIVAL WILL RISE AT WASHINGTON

Harding Parley Eyed as Geneva Meeting Ends.

GENEVA, Oct. 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—The second assembly of the league of nations adjourned at 6 o'clock tonight after reflecting Brail, Belgium, China, and Spain the four nonpermanent members of the council.

President Van Karnebeek, summing up the work of the session, said that those who had expected from the league miracles that would transform the world suddenly into a paradise would be disappointed, but the pessimists who had predicted dissolution of the league would be confounded by the result of the work accomplished. He dwelt upon the importance of the international court of justice and also upon the various technical organizations set up by the assembly as real progress toward the kind of internationalism the league was organized to bring about.

Opinions of a majority of the delegations regarding the work of the league are divided, but the net results apparently give general satisfaction. The assembly has done less than ardent league members, like Lord Robert Cecil, thought it ought to do, but more than conservative delegates, such as A. J. Balfour, believed it could do.

Far Rival to League.

The attitude of the delegates toward the Washington conference on the limitation of armaments varies according to the situation of the different countries. The small states say that it is for the large nations to make a beginning in this direction; hence Washington is the proper place for such a beginning, since there all the greatest armed nations will be gathered.

In some of the delegations the idea prevails that as an outcome of the Washington conference some international organization may be formed which would be apart from the league of nations as at present constituted. Some apprehension is expressed over the possibility of such a rival organization.

The question of registration of treaties as provided for by Article XVIII of the covenant, which it is proposed to amend, has been postponed until the next assembly.

Fix League Assessments.

Great Britain and France must pay the largest proportion of the expenses of operating the league. It was found when the committee charged with determining the share each country should pay reported to the assembly of the league today. Each must pay 5.2 per cent, or $366,000 in gold, while China, India, Italy, and Japan were placed in the second category and were called upon to pay 4.45 per cent each. In the third category were placed Argentina, Spain, Brazil, Roumania, Yugoslavia, and Czechoslovakia, whose individual shares were fixed at 3.58 per cent. The scale was graduated downward to 2.1 per cent, which will be paid by Nicaragua, Luxembourg, Panama, Paraguay, Salvador, Costa Rica, Guatemala, Honduras, and Liberia.

FRENCH FEAR 'ABSENT RULE' BY PREMIER BRIAND

Attack His Plan to Go to Washington.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
PARIS, Oct. 5.—The Journal des Debats this afternoon fired the opening gun in its fight against Premier Briand's voyage to Washington.

According to prevalent rumors, it says, M. Doumer may resign as minister of finance because of the 2,500,000,000 francs deficit in next year's budget. A cabinet crisis will effectively prevent Premier Briand's departure, as even M. Loucheur, the minister of the liberated regions, is now wary of accepting the finance post owing to the desperate situation of French finance and the reparations middle.

The Debats attacks M. Briand for taking M. Berthelot along, asking if every question arriving at Quai d'Orsay must be called to Washington for replies while the French delegation is attending banquets.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 5.—China's delegation to the Washington disarmament conference left here yesterday on the Hawkeye State. The party numbered approximately 100 and did not include Foreign Minister Yen, who, although appointed head of the delegation, may not accept the post. The delegation includes official and unofficial representatives and advisers. Many chambers of commerce and other organizations are sending members to aid the delegation if necessary.

THE HARDINGS JOIN "BIG BROTHER AND SISTER" FEDERATION

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—President and Mrs. Harding were formally inducted into office today as honorary vice presidents of the Big Brothers and Sisters federation, a philanthropic organization doing welfare work among children. The ceremony was performed at the White House by a committee headed by Charles Edwin Fox of Philadelphia, president of the federation.

In accepting the position the President told the committee he believed in the work of the Big Brothers and Sisters organization "with all my heart."

"There is nothing finer in life," said the President, "than a kindly word or deed at the right moment. It often saves the young man and sometimes is the turning point in his life, inspiring him with renewed courage and a fresh hold on life."

Japan's answer to the American agenda proposals will, of course, embody the above principles," the premier declared.

'TEACH HEALTH,' RED CROSS PLEA TO EDUCATORS

Ex-Soldiers' Needs Also Are Discussed.

Columbus, O., Oct. 5.—Inclusion of a course on health conservation in the curricula of universities, colleges, high schools, and other public schools was urged in a resolution adopted today by the health service section of the American Red Cross at the first national convention of the association here.

Building up the public health of the nation was declared one of the most vital efforts of the Red Cross. Sectional conferences, including discussion of service for enlisted and ex-service men, home hygiene, and care of the sick; junior Red Cross, and health services were held during the day, terminating in the Junior Red Cross pageant, in which 2,000 local school children participated.

Holds Veterans' Night.

Tonight was "Veterans' night," short addresses being made by Maj. Gen. John A. Le Jeune, commanding the United States marine corps; Admiral Robert E. Coontz, United States navy; John G. Emery, national commander of the American Legion; W. Frank Persons, vice chairman of the American Red Cross, and others.

Benjamin P. Merrick, chairman of the home service section, Grand Rapids, Mich., said the Red Cross must not shift its responsibilities toward disabled soldiers to the American Legion, asserting the Legion had no funds with which to carry on such work.

Many Are Puzzled.

His address brought forth the inquiry as to how the Red Cross is to effectively obtain compensation from the government for ex-service men who have been discharged, but later become incapacitated as a direct result of injuries or disease suffered while in the service. The inquiry came from Utah, and was immediately echoed from several other states. Discussion of the subject was stopped, however, by Mr. Persons asserting this question was one to be taken up and solved by division commanders.

SENATOR FRANCE ASKS HARDING TO RECOGNIZE REDS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—[Special.]—Senator Joseph I. France of Maryland discussed the Russian situation with President Harding today and recommended the recognition of the Russian soviet government if a satisfactory agreement concerning trade relations is possible. Senator France returned recently from an extended tour of Russia. He suggested to the President that an American commission be sent to Russia and that the soviet government be invited to send a commission here.

"While in Russia," Senator France said, "I received assurances from the soviet officials that the government intended to take care of the debt incurred by the former Russian government. The soviet government contends, however, that at the time the debt was incurred the countries now known as Estonia, Latvia, Finland and Ukraine were a part of the Russian empire and should now bear a share of the burden in the liquidation of the debt."

BUSINESS TONE GROWING BETTER, BANKERS HEAR

Paul M. Warburg Gives a Hopeful Note.

BY EDWARD J. DOHERTY.
Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 5.—[Special.]
The thirty-five hundred and some bankers gathered here from all parts of the country to attend the American bankers' association convention, spent the forenoon in listening to reason, the afternoon in listening to friends, and the evening at University City.
After the session in the Philharmonic auditorium, where Alexander Dana was financial editor of the New York times, Dr. Henry T. Sussallo, president of the University of Washington, and William Spruille, president of the Pacific Railroad company, and others spoke on various economic topics, the bankers repaired to the lobby of the Alexandria hotel, arranged their programs and departed.

Railways' Task Is Hard.
The transcontinental roads are in the hopeless fix of competing with the United States shipping board, vessels to business between the ports of the country at a loss. Mr. Spruille said in his speech, "and for those roads the railroads have been taxed.
The roads were taxed to build the new line in the first place, and are being taxed to continue their operation at a loss in the second place. These high costs of shipping enter into the railroad's difficulties and are part of the increased freight and fares the people have to bear."

"With the railroads in this fix, it is no talk of remedy by reductions in rates," he asserted.
A more hopeful view of the general situation was taken by Paul M. Warburg of New York, chairman of the American bankers' association.

"Natural recuperative forces are now
at work," the committee report asserted, "and there is every reason to believe that when these have been readjusted and normal balance is reestablished between countries and between nations our country will enter on a new career of prosperity and advancement."
The commission again points to the improving attempts which are made so frequently at present to undertake to remedy all existing economic evils by legislative action. The commission feels sure that most of our troubles will be remedied more quickly and cured more thoroughly if economic laws are allowed to play.

Land Holdings' Stand.
The commission approves the policy of the present national administration in minimizing, so far as possible,
the governmental participation in private business undertakings, and in seeking to effect economies in administration wherever possible. It welcomes, therefore, the inauguration of a
"light system."
The report also approves the limitation of armaments conference as a means of international economy.
The commission doubts the desirability of refunding the floating indebtedness of the government into long-term government securities at the present time. "The report adds," "The commission believes that the government

FATHER SEIZED AS CHILD SLAYER AFTER 10 YEARS

Man Who "Confessed" Is Cleared.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 5.—There was a scene out of "Lime House Nights" in the crowded senate chamber here today at a pardon hearing.

A fond father, who loved his beer,
was arrested, charged with second degree murder, as he sat in the witness chair, denying he knew how his 7 year old daughter was killed ten years ago.

A woman, who testified the father hit the child with a poker for spilling part of a pull of beer, broke ten years' silence.
A man, who has been ten years in the penitentiary after "confessing" the crime, had said he did so to escape a mob. The crowd that filled the room cheered when the father was seized.
The fond father is Martin Lemberger of this city. The woman who broke silence is Mrs. May Sorenson, a neighbor. She explained at the hearing to day that she had been afraid to tell before because Lemberger had threatened to choke her to death.

Unsigned Letter First Clew.
Until she wrote an unsigned letter to the attorney for John A. ("Dog-skin") Johnson, the man who had confessed the crime, she said she had told no one except Father J. N. Koester of St. James Roman Catholic church in the confessional. The priest now is at Kenosha.

It was from her that the crowd heard the story today. It was a simple narrative. Lemberger had sent 7 year old Annie to a saloon with a can.
The child came back with the foam
well over the can top as it should be.
But as the child approached the father, Mrs. Sorenson said, she tripped and some of the beer was spilled. Lemberger was quick with his hands. He seized a poker and hit the child over the head. When he looked at the child again, the child was dead.

Body Thrown in Lake.

Later, the woman said, Lemberger stripped the child and took the body to a nearby lake and threw it in. Mrs.
Sorenson said she had been told all about it by Mrs. Lemberger. Lemberger had learned of that and had threatened to "choke her to death" if she told.

Meanwhile "Dogskin" Johnson was arrested. He went to the prison at Waupun. Once there he repudiated his confession, but none would listen.

Recently Gov. Blaine ordered a hearing after a lawyer got Mrs. Sorenson's letter. Today Lemberger and his wife with their son were in court. Mrs.
Lemberger took the stand and said she knew nothing. Lemberger took the stand and said he knew nothing.
Then Johnson's lawyer said he was ready to prove Lemberger the killer.
The warrant was served and the crowd cheered. The decision on the pardon rests with the state commissioner of pardon.

SMALL CITES CHICAGO FIRE AS LESSON FOR THE NEXT WEEK

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 5.—Gov. Len Small by proclamation today urged that the anniversary of the Chicago fire be celebrated by exhorting all to guard against fire.

The governor advised:
"That on Oct. 9, being the Sabbath,
pastors in every church call attention to the tremendous fire waste and exhort their congregations to do all they can, at home and in their places of business, to prevent fire.

"That on Monday, Oct. 10, practical exercises be held in all schools to instruct pupils in the hazards of fire and how to avoid them.

"That the entire week be marked by a general cleaning up and disposal of rubbish from all premises.

"That fire drills be held in schools, factories, and stores, and that they be continued at regular intervals.

"That schools, theaters, churches, public and private hospitals and institutions, factories, stores, and hotels be inspected to see that every safeguard against fire is provided, and also that exit facilities are sufficient in case of fire.

"That, where possible, public mass meetings be held in the interest of fire protection."

Bill to Refund Foreign Loans to Be Sifted Today

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—[Special.]—Hearings on the administration bill giving the treasury authority to refund foreign loans, will be begun
by the house ways and means committee tomorrow. Secretary of Treasury Mellon, who will appear before the committee, said he expected the bill to be reported out within a week and speedily passed in the house. The senate finance committee held hearings and reported out the bill several months ago but no action has been taken by the senate.

PISTOLS BLAZE AGAIN IN 19TH WARD VENDETTA

Victim, Near Death, Refuses to Aid Police.

Another shooting, believed by the police to be the result of the strife between Nineteenth ward political factions, took place yesterday morning and Joseph Marino, its victim, is near death in the county hospital.
Marino, who lived at 315 South Irving avenue, was on his way to work
when he was shot in front of 2306 Taylor street. Nine bullets fired from a .22 caliber automatic pistol entered his body, and he fell with wounds in the face, left shoulder, abdomen, and back.

Two small boys, D. Dublin, 16 years old of 2321 Taylor street, and Hyman Dukatt, 11 years old of 2306 Taylor street, were the only witnesses the police could find. They said they were on the way to a store when the shots were fired and looking around saw a man lying on the sidewalk. There was no sign of his assailants they declared.

Mrs. Jennie Mackenberg, at whose home Marino lived, said that he moved there recently. She said at the time he told her he was anxious to get away from the Nineteenth ward, as he had been mixed up in police there and was afraid he might be "bumped off."
There are two theories other than that of political vengeance to explain the murder. The police learned that Marino was in love with a girl whose parents did not smile on his suit and they think that this love affair may have involved Marino in trouble. They also say he may have been involved in a feud that originated in Italy.

Be Pretty! Turn Gray Hair Dark

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea
and Sulphur

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago, the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home,
which is messy and troublesome.
Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

NEW TAX BILL AIDS ULTRA RICH, DEMOCRATS SAY

Senate Minority Report Attacks Measure.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—[Special.]—Attacks on the pending tax bill are contained in minority reports filed in the senate today. Democratic members of the senate finance committee, Senators Simmons of North Carolina, Williams of Mississippi, Jones of New Mexico, Garry of Rhode Island, Reed of Missouri, and Walsh of Massachusetts, signed one of the reports. The other was presented by Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, a Republican.

The Democrat report declares that the tax bill fails to provide for the simplification and equalization of the income and corporation taxes or the repeal of obnoxious taxes, but instead has revised the law in such a way as to unbalance the whole system and to "relieve the corporate system of the burden of hundreds of millions of taxes most of which is shifted to the shoulders of the masses."

Senator La Follette's View.

Senator La Follette, in his dissenting views declared himself to be in general sympathy with the criticisms made against the bill by the Democrats, but that he believes their recommendations for amendments do not cure the "fundamental evils" of the bill. He denounces what he describes as its "monstrous inequities" and says that the correct title of the measure should be "An act to untax wealth and penalize industry and enterprise."

The proposed 3 percent manufacturer's sales tax sponsored by Senator Smoot of Utah was criticized by Republican Leader Mondell of the house following a visit to the White House. Mr. Mondell expressed his opinion that there would be no possibility of the acceptance by the house of any kind of a general sales tax.

To Lift, Not Shift, Taxes.

"The house passed the tax bill on the theory that there would be a lifting and not a shifting of taxes," said Mr. Mondell. "Consequently the house bill is a repeal bill and, with the exception of the increased corporation tax, does not provide any new taxes. Regardless of whether the sales tax might be proper to raise funds for a specific purpose, it does not fit in with our program to lift the tax burden."

Tax legislation was discussed with President Harding during the day by a number of members of congress, including Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader of the senate; Republican Leader Mondell of the house, Speaker Gillett, and others. It was stated that the President has an open mind on the points of controversy that have arisen.

Senators Confer on Measure.

Conferences continued today and tonight among Republican senators relative to the amendment of the tax bill in the senate along the lines of the program worked out by Senators Mc-

LOVE FINDS THE WAY FROM POSTOFFICE TO LOCKUP FOR SUITOR

Being quite lovesick, a poor composer of billet doux, and an employer of the postoffice, Myron F. Wilkins, 29 year old student, finds himself this morning in the Waukegan jail, charged with tampering with the mails.

His love for a Maywood girl repulsed, Wilkins obtained a job as distributing clerk in the Chicago postoffice. He spent evenings writing love notes to the girl. The notes were weakly contrived, he knew. It occurred to him that among the millions of letters that he distributed for delivery he ought to find more persuasive epistles.

A letter addressed to Maywood accidentally became opened one day. He drew out the note and found it was from another man whose love had also been spurned and who wrote his charming words providentially suited to Wilkins' case.

Wilkins took the first and many succeeding notes home, laboriously copied them and sent them to his innamorata.

Cornick of Illinois, Lenroot of Wisconsin, Capper of Kansas, and others. The report of the Democrat members of the senate committee severely assailed the pending bill.

CORONER FAILS TO SOLVE DEATH OF BUFFINGTON

After reexamining in his office yesterday the hanging of Samuel Buffington, 14 year old Boy Scout, Coroner Peter M. Hoffman was as mystified as ever over the responsibility for the boy's tragic death.

Ropes found on the neck and wrists of young Buffington, when he was found in the closet of his home, 1428 East 65th street, were applied to a boy of the same measurements.

"And still, we don't know whether Samuel performed the act alone or was bound by some one else," said Coroner Hoffman. "We have, however, established that death was caused by strangulation by hanging, which disproves the theory that he was murdered outside of the house and then tied up."

MERIT ONLY TO BE PROMOTION TEST IN ARMY

Gen. Wood's Service Wins Praise of Weeks.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—[Special.]—Secretary of War Weeks today announced that merit in the future would be the test for promotion to the rank of brigadier general of the army. After announcing the promotion of Brig. Gen. Charles J. Bailey to be major general, to fill the vacancy caused by retirement of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, and Brig. Gen. Samuel D. Sturgis to the vacancy caused by retirement of Maj. Gen. Joseph T. Dickman, Secretary Weeks said the names of two new brigadier generals would be announced tomorrow.

"In the past," said Secretary Weeks, "an attempt was made to equalize promotion between the several combat arms by distributing among them in turn these appointments, a certain number of vacancies being filled from each arm."

Best Man Gets Promotion. "Since the act of June 4, 1920, in which congress placed all officers of the combat arms on a single promotion list, the necessity for distributing appointments to equalize promotion no longer exists, and the best man may be sought without regard to his arm of the service. Hereafter endeavor will be made to secure the best, having in mind due regard for distinguished service, and the best interests of the government as affected by past record and variety of military experience."

Gen. Wood was declared to have done more to remedy America's unpreparedness prior to the nation's entrance into the world war than any other individual in a letter written today by Secretary Weeks to the general, whose retirement from the active list of the army became effective, permitting him to assume the governorship of the Philippine Islands.

His Work in World War.

Briefly reviewing the officer's military career, Mr. Weeks said the "wise foresight" displayed by Gen. Wood in organizing the citizens' military training camps before the United States entered the war had furnished thousands of young officers for that struggle.

"I do not consider," Secretary Weeks wrote, "that it is too much to say that your efforts contributed more to remedy our unpreparedness for war than those of any other individual, and for this your country will give you credit long after the circumstances which denied you the privilege of commanding in battle the troops you trained are forgotten."

GEN. WOOD EMPRESS' GUEST. (Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) [COKIO, Oct. 5.—Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, retired an aviator and had luncheon with the empress of Japan today. Every possible honor is being shown the general and his party by the Japanese.

KIWANIS WILL PLANT MEMORY TREES OCT. 22

Elaborate Ceremonies Are Planned.

BY LEOLA ALLARD.

A big celebration has been arranged by the Kiwanis club of Rogers Park for Oct. 22, when the first of the organization's trees on the Memory road to Milwaukee will be planted with splendid ceremony. There will be present city officials, Boy Scouts, members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, soldiers and sailors from Great Lakes and Fort Sheridan, school children, Kiwanis members, Rogers Park citizens, and members of many organizations.

It was the Rogers Park Kiwanis who asked Daniel S. Wentworth, chairman of the All-Chicago council of Kiwanis, for the honor of planting the first of the hero trees, on what is destined to be one of the most beautiful of all Memory roads. A bronze marker will be erected by these Rogers Park businessmen beside this first tree. J. L. Zender, Birchwood florist, is hunting the finest tree available for this place.

Praises Rogers Park Men. Mr. Wentworth wrote Dr. L. F. Heck, Rogers Park secretary: "You are the first club to suggest the planting of the first hero tree, so the honor is yours. Proceed on a big scale. You cannot make it too big, for you are making history. We can plant to follow this first planting in other cities along the route for an Armistice day celebration—Nov. 11. My tentative idea is to have each Kiwanis club between Chicago and Milwaukee engage special cars on the Milwaukee Electric and plant trees as follows: Milwaukee, 7 a. m. Fort Sheridan, 2:30 p. m. Racine, 8:30 a. m. p. m. Kenosha, 10 a. m. p. m. Highland Park, 4 p. m. Waukegan, 11:30 a. m. Evanston, 6 p. m. Great Lakes, 1 p. m.

This would give us an hour for appropriate tree planting exercises and a half hour to get to our next stopping point. If towns between these points desire trees planted, we can shorten our period of stay to half an hour and then let the town continue the program."

More States Heard From. Details are not settled, but at the meeting of the heads of Kiwanis between Chicago and Milwaukee tonight, at Waukegan, more definite plans will be made.

Three more states have been heard from in the great plan to make of America's highway the world's greatest road of remembrance, to the glory of all soldiers who served in the late war. They are Georgia, Kentucky, Idaho, Oklahoma, O. Hays of Boise, Idaho, is making ready for Idaho organization. Macon's chamber of commerce is doing great work in Georgia, and John E. Huhn, vice president of the Liberty Insurance bank of Louisville, is doing effective organization in Kentucky.

The Chicago Council of Gold Star Mothers of Chicago has communicated with the American Legion in regard to sending $200 and receiving 100 of the memory trees donated by Cook county for Gold Star boys. The 200 names will be placed on one marker and given an honor place on memory road to be planted by the Legion and Scouts on Nov. 11.

Boy Shot by Policeman;

$500 in Loot Recovered

John Stephens, 17, 1487 Hastings street, said to have been fleeing from Maxwell street police, was shot and critically wounded in the abdomen early yesterday by Detective Otto Radatz. The boy's companion, Morris Waller, 19, 1241 Hastings street, and Paul Clark, 27, 1310 Washburne avenue, were captured. Burial bags containing $500 worth of cigars and tobacco were found nearby.

Car Lines' Program Voted

Blair and Cleveland Tilt. "We don't propose to let a wrecking wreck the companies," he said at one point, but he did not let Cleveland until the city's lawyer whether he considered the section of the contract binding to turn over 10 percent of the net receipts to the city of the street car fare was reduced 1 or 4 cents. To that Blair replied that would be a matter for the city to consider.

"You said something smart, didn't you?" retorted Cleveland. Mr. Blair had previously said that the companies could not live on 1 cent fare.

In answer to questions Mr. Blair said that his salary as head of the new lines and of the Chicago Railway company is $60,000 a year and that the salary of L. A. Busby, who had been a year as president of the city railway company, was $20,000 a year, general counsel for the new lines, had previously said that his salary was $20,000.

NAB MOTOR COP IN STATE QUIZ OF SPEED TRAPS

Hold Hillside (Ill.) Chief
as Witness.

One motorcycle policeman was arrested and two others and a chief of police were summoned to appear at the state's attorney's office today for questioning as a result of a series of raids yesterday on officials of suburban towns where, it is charged, autoists have been indiscriminately arrested and summarily fined.

The raids were made by Deputy Sheriff Manuel Sultan, Assistant State's Attorney, P. Burke and Frank Vestuda, motorcycle policeman at Hillside, was taken into custody and Chief of Police Emil Lechelt of Hillside and William A. Geary and George Palmer, motorcycle policeman of Proviso, were summoned to give testimony.

"We have confessions from police-men that they have been working with parties of the peace on a prearranged commission basis," Deputy Sheriff Sultan explained. "These policemen do not receive salaries—the more arrests they made, the larger were their incomes."

"They have used 'speed traps' to arrest motorists whether they were or were not violating the law. Jewelry, whisky and cash bribes have been taken."

"We want to find out, among other things, where all the auto fines go, who makes them, on whose authority the cops are appointed and if some pieces of the peace and policemen are subsisting entirely on Chicago motorists' fines."

"We have seized certain records which we believe will expose the whole racket system."

SOVIET SEIZURE OF GRAIN CAUSE OF BIG FAMINE

BY LARRY RUI.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.)

RIGA, Oct. 5.—The Russian famine was caused by the bolshevik officials' policy of requisitioning grain and sending it from the farmers and giving nothing in return, according to Russian peasants and German settlers throughout the famine territory.

This policy caused the peasants to decrease the acreage of their land under cultivation and then when requisitions continued in the same proportions as before they were forced to give up their seed grain, with the result that they had nothing to plant.

The drought contributed to the famine to some extent, but people had survived to death in the Volga district in January, long before the drought ravaged the fields. After the government had taken its toll of grain, cotton, linen, and supplies, the peasants said that the soldiers in many cases took what remained, leaving the farmers practically nothing.

The German settlers have suffered especially, the soviet having preyed on them because they were reputed to be rich. Some Germans tell tales of torture by the bolsheviks who forced them to reveal the hiding places of their scanty stores.

STATE CENSORS OF FILMS URGED BY METHODISTS

Conference Takes Stand
on Current Affairs.

Resolutions representing the policy of the Rock River conference of the Methodist Episcopal church for the ensuing year were presented to the conference at yesterday's session at the Thoburn church, 64th and Paulina streets. They comprise the report of the committee on public policy and were presented by the chairman, the Rev. E. F. Tittle, pastor of the First church of Evanston.

The first section of the report praised the "movies" as a great recreational and educational factor, but it is urged a new conscience should be developed in the industry. The resolutions declared it was the state's right and duty to censor motion pictures. The section headed "Law, Order, and Freedom of Speech" contains these declarations:

"The man who violates the eighteenth amendment should be made to feel that he is not a good American. The man who attempts, by lawless methods, to effect a change in our industrial system and the man who attempts by similar methods to prevent any change are equally reprehensible. We protest against any attempt to muzzle the pulpit. The preacher must be granted the full right to denounce the counsel of God as he understands it."

Stand on Americanization.

On "Americanization" the report "looked with disapproval upon any kind which refuses to recognize the contribution the immigrant may make to the development of our national character."

"We believe the gravity of world wide industrial unrest is due to the war, but also to evils inherent in a system of production for profit rather than for service. The weakness of the present system is the fact that it is based on selfishness. Let us develop a system in which human personality and human brotherhood will be recognized, and in which service shall be the ruling motive."

The League of Nations, continued the report, has not fulfilled its promises. But some real league of nations, some actual brotherhood of man, is needed.

The resolutions looked to the coming disarmament conference with mingled joy and trembling—joy in the hope that nations would disarm and trembling in the fear that the nations would not agree. They recommended prayer throughout the week.

Talks on Rural Churches.

At the evening session of the Rock River conference the Rev. Paul L. Vogt of the department of rural work of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension spoke on the subject of rural missionary work.

"Everywhere may be found little one room wooden churches alongside well built schoolhouses and other public buildings," he said. "The program of the modern rural church demands $10,000 buildings where $2,000 buildings stood before."

Three thousand ministers were trained last summer, he said, for vacant rural pastorships, most of them in three weeks' courses in summer schools. More are being trained more thoroughly for rural work in the future. Main street, asserted Dr. Vogt, can be made the ideal place in American life.

"One serious difficulty in Methodism has been the attitude of ministers toward rural work," he said. "Promotion has always been accepted as being away from the country to the cities. It was necessary to break down this attitude before real progress could be made."

39 SHOP ARCADE TO TAKE PLACE OF SHERIDAN INN

Daniel F. Trade, judge of the Municipal court, will speak on "The Real Estate Man and the Law" at 12:30 p. m. today at the Chicago Real Estate board luncheon at the board rooms, 57 West Monroe street.

BY AL CHASE.

Chicago seems to be waking up to the possibilities of the arcade for shops—long used on a magnificent scale in Europe, especially in Italy, where the Milan arcade is especially famous, and also popular in other American cities. We have two or three in the loop and outlying districts, but not on the elaborate scale of other communities.

JUDGE DANIEL F. TRADE.

With the closing of a 191 year lease on the southeast corner of Broadway and Sheridan road, formerly Devoe, on the old Sheridan inn property is to be wrecked and an $80,000 two story brick and terra cotta arcade is to be built at once. It will have nineteen shops on the first floor and twenty on the second.

William F. Woodruff, chairman of the board of directors of the Rockford National bank, Rockford, Ill., has leased the property from Harry J. Kavanaugh and has had plans drawn by architect H. H. Green for the arcade, which is expected to be ready for tenants about March 1.

Fifteen Foot Corridor.

The property fronts 100 feet on Broadway and 150 on Sheridan. The main corridor of the arcade will be fifteen feet wide and will run east and west with an entrance on Broadway and with Estate board will be held at 2 p. m. instead of 3 o'clock, as formerly. This decision was arrived at following a postal card questionnaire sent out to members.

The question of naming a manager of the Chicago Real Estate board at a salary of $10,000 annually for two years was postponed at yesterday's meeting until the November session.

FIRE AT FUR THIEVES.
Five shots fired by Edward Burke of 1529 South State street, a colored watchman, at thieves who smashed the show window of the Morris Fur shop, at 435 East 51st street, and stole a $550 piece yesterday, caused considerable excitement among neighbors and led to reports of a murder being sent to nearby police stations.

BATTEN

If all advertising did was Pay

If the only thing a man got from advertising was cash profits, there wouldn't be nearly so many advertisers.

Advertising men know better than anybody else (except wives) that the hard-headed American business man is really a temperamental, sentimental, artist sort of person who sometimes thinks more of an unsolicited testimonial from somebody he never saw than he does of an order that was hard to get.

There is nothing more satisfying in life than the knowledge that your business enjoys the good opinion of nearly all the worth-while people in the country.

It would be funny if a favorable public opinion didn't "pay." It would be funny if this favorable public opinion could be got for nothing, or induced with lies, or stimulated by vain boasting.

Instead of wondering whether advertising does pay or won't pay, think what it is, and decide from that whether you are fit to have it or not.

Once a month, or more frequently, we issue a publication called Batten's Wedge. Each issue is devoted to a single editorial on some phase of business. If you are a business executive and would like to receive copies, write us.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 5.—(Spe) Attorney General Brundage made a reply to the statement yesterday by Gov. Small following a session of reports referring to the Illinois Central railroad. In his reply, General Brundage says: "The publication in the news of a motion made in open court for the state to set aside the report, and for an order to the court the evidence of this in the suit against the Central railroad for an account to have aroused the governor's bureau" to renewed effort to get the money paid from the state.

"Economic" Increases.
Of course the addition of a $1,000,000 in extra jobs to the state and commerce commission for a political machine, or is the $1,000,000 in extra jobs added to the department of public works made with any of the money paid from the state? Who about him could it be?

"The attorney general was money to perform statutory duties while the grand total of the income of the so-called 'economy' of the state is over $1,000,000. So much for that. The governor seems to be quite sure that no duty rests upon him in connection with the semi-annual report of the Illinois Central railroad in connection with the charter obligation. How could the governor be expected to know? Who about him could it be?"

What Law Demands of I.
The statutes, however, are clear upon this point. The law is the duty of the railroad company to make up a semi-annual report of receipts, upon which the state is due the state, and a copy of report is required by law to be sent to the governor, who has the power to question its accuracy. Springfield, Ill., Oct. 5.—[Special.]—Attorney General Brundage today made a reply to the statement issued yesterday by Gov. Small following publication of reports referring to the litigation between the state and the Illinois Central railroad. In his reply Attorney General Brundage says:

"The publication in the newspapers of a motion made in open court by the attorney general for the state to set aside the verdict of the jury in the case of the Illinois Central railroad, and for an order to the court to award the evidence taken in the suit against the Illinois Central railroad for an accounting, has aroused the governor's 'bureau' to renewed efforts to have the money paid from the public treasury."

"Economical" Increases.
"Of course the addition of a total of $1,000,000 in extra jobs to the trade and commerce commission for the biennial report, and for an order to the court to award the evidence taken in the suit against the Illinois Central railroad for an accounting, has aroused the governor's 'bureau' to renewed efforts to have the money paid from the public treasury."

"The attorney general was denied the right to perform statutory duties, and the grand total of the increases in the so-called 'economy' of Gov. Small, which he always alludes to with a sneer, is over $3,000,000."

"The governor seems to be quite content that no duty rests upon him in connection with the semi-annual reports of the Illinois Central railroad in connection with the charter obligations. Who would the governor be expected to know? Who about him could inform him?"

What Law Demands of I. C.
"The statutes, however, are very plain upon this point. The law makes the duty of the railroad company to make up a semi-annual report of its receipts, upon which 7 per cent of the state, and a copy of such report is required by law to be sent to the governor, who has the power to question its accuracy."
"Unfortunately for the state, the accuracy of the report unquestioned is binding upon the state, unless fraud or mistakes can be affirmatively shown, and the Supreme court has so held."

A FIERY FRIENDSHIP

From left to right are Mrs. Jane Quinn, 73 years old; Mrs. Mary O'Brien, also 73, and Mrs. Mary Donahue, 78 years old, who made a friendship fifty years ago that has been enduring. Perhaps it is enduring because it is a friendship fused in the great fire which destroyed Chicago. They met in the confusion that followed the rescue of lives and property every year at this time they exchange visits by way of celebration. They were photographed in the home of Mrs. Donahue's daughter, Mrs. A. C. Hoff of 4806 North Winchester avenue.

binding upon the state, unless fraud or mistakes can be affirmatively shown, and the Supreme court has so held."

"During my incumbency as attorney general these semi-annual reports have been sent regularly to the attorney general for the drafting of an acknowledgment, so as not to stop the state from any future recovery should the pending litigation against the Illinois Central system result in a greater measure of accounting."

Points Small's Responsibility.

Gov. Lowden always took this precaution, but the semi-annual report, made last June, was not submitted to the attorney general, and Gov. Small seems to be in total ignorance that such a report was made to him or that any duty under the law rested upon him."

"The governor may not be aware that under the law he is a director, ex officio, of the Illinois Central railroad, representing the people of the state of Illinois. From his absence of knowledge as to what his duties are, a continuance of such ignorance may work detrimentally to the people."

AIRPLANE SWING
SNAPS IN FLIGHT;
29 PEOPLE FALL

Brockton, Mass., Oct. 5.—A swing that simulated the flight of an airplane went to pieces at the fair grounds here today, sending twelve cars, in which there were twenty-nine persons, most of them children, spinning into the crowds along the midway. Eight of the child passengers were severely hurt. A score of persons, some passengers, other bystanders, were less seriously hurt.

The machine was one of those in which the gondolas, attached to rods, are swung outward from a central pole, to which the rods are connected by a crown plate. The power had been started and the cars, gathering momentum, were swinging in a widening circle when the crown plate broke. The cars and their passengers skimmed off in all directions.

U. S. DRIVE ON ADULTERATION OF GRAIN PROMISEDDealers to Co-operate in National Movement.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Adulteration of grain, and other phases of the food and drug act as it applies to the trade were explained by Dr. R. E. Doolittle, chief of the central district, bureau of chemistry, at the closing session yesterday of the Grain Dealers' National association annual convention at Hotel Sherman.

An attempt will be made with the plan that have been formulated to suppress the traffic in adulterated grains wherever found, he told the grain men, and the hearty cooperation of the trade is expected.

Dr. Doolittle's opinion is that the provisions of the law are so definite that there is no reason for misunderstanding in the trade.

"The principles of the food and drug act are simply the ethics of honest business and the way is clear and plain for the merchant who conducts his business along such lines," he said.

"Our greatest trouble today is that we have reached a stage where through long association with these practices, we often regard adulteration with a tolerance that is surprising."

The bureau will endeavor to stamp out the adulteration of oats and other grain with water and foreign matter. B. E. Clement of Waco, Tex., was selected president of the association. The first vice president, F. E. Watkins, Ohio; second vice president, D. M. Cash, Illinois; and Charles Quinn, Ohio, secretary-treasurer, were chosen to succeed themselves.

A resolution was passed at yesterday's meeting favoring the withdrawal of the Smith-Lever funds from being used in county agricultural agent work because the grain men believe that it is unfair to use this money to aid in organizing cooperative organizations. A copy of the resolution will be sent to President Harding and Henry C. Wallace, secretary of agriculture.

The delegates also declared themselves against class legislation. They believe also that the federal bank board's power should be limited in some way. Funds will be solicited from members of the grain dealers' organization to be used by the educational committee headed by R. I. Mansfield.

INDIANA REFUSES TO YIELD MINER
TO WEST VIRGINIA

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 5.—Declaring that under the present "disturbed conditions" in West Virginia he doubted if David Robb of Terre Haute, Ind., would receive a fair trial in that state, Gov. Warren T. McCray of Indiana refused today to honor a requisition from Gov. Morgan. While Gov. McCray was holding a hearing on the requisition, the convention of the United Mine Workers of America adopted a resolution opposing return of Robb to West Virginia, and declaring that his life "would not be safe under conditions now prevailing" in that state.

Robb, who is an organizer for the United Mine Workers, was indicted in Mingo county, W. Va., in connection with disturbances there. He was charged with conspiracy to commit a felonious assault, the assault being the murder of Dan Whitl last May.

In addition to expressing his doubt as to the assurance of a fair trial for Robb in the West Virginia courts, Gov. McCray decided that in his opinion Robb was not a fugitive from justice, inasmuch as he had been deported by the state authorities.

The miners ended their biennial convention today with the adoption of a resolution favoring the formation of a new political party, combining the forces of organized labor and the organized farmers.

They Satisfy

The foolish man who built his house on the sand

He gave an example in folly which anybody can understand. It isn't so easy, however, to sense the mistake of trying to build the body on foods which lack essential nourishment.

Here, again, is a foundation of sand which gives way when the test comes.

Many a food that tastes good lacks honesty of nourishment to equal its taste. Thus it tempts the appetite into mistakes that often are costly.

Grape-Nuts is a food which helps build bodily endurance for life's stress and storm. The full nourishment of wheat and malted barley, together with the vital mineral salts so necessary to bone structure and red blood corpuscles, with phosphates for the brain, is retained in Grape-Nuts. The long baking process by which Grape-Nuts is made gives the food a natural sweetness and an unusual ease of digestibility and assimilation.

Served with cream or milk, Grape-Nuts is fully nourishing, and whether eaten as a cereal at breakfast or lunch, or made into a pudding for dinner, Grape-Nuts has a particular delight for the appetite. Sold by grocers.

COMMERCE HEADS STUDY DRIVE TO STOP FIRE LOSS

Flames Cost $2,000 Daily;
Used to Be $25,000.

Accidents to industrial workers have been cut 80 per cent in fifteen years. Chicago cut its daily average fire loss of $25,000 to less than $2,000 on Oct. 5, 1920.

These two statements were the outstanding features of "no accident, no fire" arguments advanced yesterday at the luncheon of the Association of Commerce in the Hotel La Salle. The "No Accident, No Fire" week commences Saturday, under the direction of the Chicago Safety Council.

Birth of Safety Work. "Industrial safety work was first started in the South Chicago plant of the Illinois Steel company fifteen years ago," said Arthur H. Young, president of the National Safety Council. "In a few years the deaths by accident in that plant were reduced from 54 to 7 per cent."

"The work was then carried to other large industrial plants, with the result that government statistics show that industrial accidents have been reduced 80 per cent."

"At the outbreak of the war Uncle Sam became the greatest violator of safety laws. In government work shops accidents were common. Then safety engineers stepped in and cut that loss 75 per cent in three years."

Urges Intensive Campaign. "What has been done can be done again. This work should be taken up by every member of this association. If through this intensive campaign to teach habitual safety we can bring about the cooperation of every man, woman, and child we can cut Chicago's present appalling loss of life and property to a minimum."

More than 2,000 persons attended the festival play given in Grant park last night to celebrate the semi-centennial of the Chicago fire by the Association of Commerce. They watched the burning of Chicago again with bated breath. According to an artist who witnessed the performance, it is the greatest fire spectacle Chicago has ever seen.

"Moreover, it teaches a lesson to the spectators," the man said. "It demonstrates the danger of fire, the horror of such a thing as the Chicago fire."

Victims to Tell Story. "Open house" will be held by the Chicago Historical society Sunday evening. All survivors of the great fire have been invited to attend and tell their stories of the night of Oct. 4, 1871.

A bronze tablet commemorative of the late Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus for "his broad vision in serving the cause of fire protection through the admission of fire protection engineering as one of the courses in the Armour Institute of Technology" was presented to the institute yesterday at the golden jubilee in the Congress hotel of the Fire Underwriters' Association of the Northwest.

WITNESS TELLS OF BRIBE TO IDENTIFY LABRIOLA SLAYER

Charges that the state's witness against Angelo Genna, accused of the murder of Paul Labriola, first victim of the Nine-tenth ward feud, had bribed other witnesses to identify Genna, threw a bombshell into the state's case yesterday.

Nick Ginopvo, a witness in the case, testified that he had been bribed by Genna to identify him as the slayer of Labriola.

Genna, who is now in the state prison, was charged with the murder of Labriola, a prominent businessman, in the Nine-tenth ward of Chicago.

The state's case against Genna is based on the testimony of several witnesses, including Ginopvo, who claimed to have seen Genna shoot Labriola.

Genna's defense attorneys have moved to dismiss the case, claiming that the state's witness has been bribed and that the evidence is unreliable.

The case is expected to be heard by the state's supreme court in the near future.

3 WOMEN, 9 MEN, SECOND "KABER MURDER" JURORS

Cleveland, O., Oct. 5.—Four witnesses for the state took the stand today in the trial of Miss Marian McArdle, 20, charged with first degree murder in connection with the slaying of Daniel Kaber, in his Lakewood home two years ago.

The jury of nine men and three women was selected and sworn shortly before noon. The three women are mothers of grown daughters.

After the noon recess, the jurors were taken to the scene of the crime, the former home of Kaber. When they returned the opening arguments were made and the first witness called.

Thomas McArdle of Chicago, Marian's father and the first husband of her mother, Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, who is now serving a life sentence for the murder of Kaber, is expected to be here tomorrow to assist his daughter and may be called as a witness for the defense.

HEAD OF GERMAN ROYALIST COUP ASKS A PARDON

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The head of the German royalist movement, Dr. Kapp, asked the republican government to grant him a pardon and repeal the order for his arrest.

Incidentally he denied rumors of a coming monarchist coup.

According to the Socialists, Capt. Ehrhardt's plea for a pardon indicates a collapse of the reactionary movement which, they say, is due to two causes—lack of funds from the Hohenzollerns and the extraordinary popular uprisings against the monarchists following the assassination of Matthias Erzberger, who was killed by two members of Ehrhardt's brigade.

C. P. A. Coaching for Advanced Accountants

DOWN-TOWN EVENING CLASSES, now forming, will prepare you for the Illinois Certified Public Accountants' Examinations to be held in May, 1922.

Class sessions will be devoted to

- (1) Review of principles of Accounting, Cost Accounting, Auditing, Income Tax Procedure, etc.
- (2) Discussion of fundamental accounting problems, including intensive drills and speed tests in the solution of actual problems used in C. P. A. and American Institute examinations.
- (3) Intensive study of income tax work, with plenty of problems covering the intricate cases.
- (4) Discussion of professional ethics and practice; business matters with which public accountants should be familiar to render the best service and counsel to clients; business policies; financial policies; tax relations; cost analysis; business trends; legislative acts, etc.

This training affords not only thorough preparation for the C. P. A. examinations, but supplies a finishing course for those engaged in higher accounting work, or who contemplate the practice of public accounting with or without the C. P. A. degree. It is an opportunity to profit immensely thru the year from personal contact with many of the liveliest accountants of the city of Chicago—a place to meet strong men in the profession, as well as a good place to train and study. As these classes are filling rapidly and will accommodate but a limited number, we urge early registration. For further particulars call, write or phone (Randolph 5528).

N. B.—In the last C. P. A. examinations in Illinois for which official figures are available, and in open competition with graduates of other schools, more than 45 per cent of those successful were LaSalle-trained men. LaSalle-trained Certified Public Accountants may be found in practically every state in the Union.

GRAINS IN GRIP OF "BLUE" NEWS; PRICES DECLINE

By CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

Grain prices declined to the lowest of the season for all deliveries with a semi-demoralized condition all around, especially in wheat. Hedging pressure was on in all grains with wheat feeling the most effect and after numerous fluctuations within a wide range closed 3% lower. Corn and oats had more stability than wheat, although the entire list closed at almost the low point of the day with losses of 1/4 to 1/2%.

Depressing influences predominated all grain markets during the day, with Winnipeg in the lead in wheat, October there at one time showing a drop of 10c. The Canadian and American wheat markets are working closer together and the pressure of hedging sales from Winnipeg and the American northwest is too heavy for values to hold up.

There was a decline of 40 1/2c from the previous day's close with December down to $1.17 1/2, and May to $1.15 1/2. Numerous rallies of 10 1/2c occurred, mainly on short covering. Liquidation of export selling was an important factor, while the principal buying was in taking profits on previous sales. There was also a little new investment buying on the extreme back by a few local professionals and buying by houses with eastern seaboard connections.

News Depresses Market. News of a depressing character and supporting features were practically absent. Even the export business, which aggregated 1,000,000 bu at the last, including 600,000 bu Manitoba and 400,000 bu American, with two cargoes from the Pacific coast, failed to have any effect, as it came at the close.

Rains were reported in Argentina and Australian crop prospects are said to be favorable. The trade for the present is looking at the foreign conditions and the low speculative trade is working against values. Nearly all the big commission houses were on the selling side, and on the break those with northern connections, which sold early and have been active on the selling side the last few weeks, became large buyers of May.

Cash prices were generally lower, with Omaha the weakest of all markets, with a loss of 2 1/2c, while Kansas City was off 1/2c on dark hard, with part of the wheat unsold. The southwestern markets are getting a fair run, 414 cars, against 318 cars a week ago, and 374 cars last year. Northwestern receipts continue disappointing, particularly at Minneapolis. The two markets had 876 cars, or 243 cars more than a week ago and 51 cars over last year.

Corn Futures Sold Freely. Cash houses and local traders sold corn futures freely, while Wagner, who has been on the selling side of late, was a heavy and continuous buyer. Futures declined to new levels, 4 1/2c for December and 4 1/4c for May, with the close on a rally of 1/4c. Increasing complaints of damage to the crop coming in daily and covering a wider territory, are attracting attention. There are numerous local traders who regard the market as well sold out and this created a better feeling at the last. Husking returns are disappointing.

A large part of the trading in oats was in selling December and buying May at 40 1/2c difference. Northwestern houses did the reverse on a large scale at 4 1/2c. There was heavy selling of December around 25 1/2c, depressing to 25 1/4c, the lowest of the season so far. After the pressure was removed an advance of 1/2c was made and entirely lost at the last. Cash buying was better.

Rye was under pressure from local and northwestern interests, with an absence of support, and the close around the low point, with December 85c at the last. Nothing was heard of export business. A better demand existed for barley, with 6,000 bu sold to the east.

Provision Market Lower. Provision market was a slow but sensitive affair, with limited support from packing interests and no particular pressure. Yet prices declined early, but rallied at the last, although there were net

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Export sales of wheat in all positions aggregated 1,000,000 bu yesterday, including 600,000 bu at the Pacific coast and 700,000 bu Manitoba to Europe, with the balance of hard winter wheat. Considerable business was said to be in small lots and corn and rye were also reported.

Domestic shipping sales at Chicago were 45,000 bu wheat, 240,000 bu corn, and 195,000 bu oats. Chartered were made for 350,000 bu corn at 1 1/2c to Buffalo or Georgia Bay.

Premiums on winter wheats at Chicago were about unchanged, with No. 2 red 50c and No. 3 hard 46 1/2c over December. Springs were unchanged. Receipts, 72 cars, of which over half were hard winter from Kansas City in transit to the east.

Outside winter wheat markets reported a slow demand, with St. Louis 46 1/2c lower, while hard at Kansas City was 2c lower. Dark hard 50c, and red 46c lower. At Omaha prices were 1/2c lower, the latter on yellow hard, and a number of cars were carried over unsold. Minneapolis premiums were 5c higher on some medium quality springs and 2c lower on poorer kinds.

Premiums on yellow corn fluctuated rather sharply. A few sales were made 1 1/2c under December early and later at 1 1/2c under, with the close on all kinds at 1 1/2c under the 7c. Sample values averaged 1/2c lower. Premiums on yellow corn were 1/2c higher on some medium quality springs and 2c lower on poorer kinds.

Demand for cash oats was fair with the basis unchanged at 41c under the 7c. Demand for No. 2 white being 5 1/2c and No. 3 white 2 1/2c under the 7c. Sample values were 1/2c lower on the average. Receipts, 77 cars.

The City of Winnipeg is one of Canada's greatest commercial, distributing and industrial centers. Focused here are all the radiating transcontinentals, carrying to the markets the immense grain crops of the Canadian west, and carrying as westbound return traffic a great volume of manufactured products to supply this vast area. Winnipeg has already attained a position of first rank. The potential development of the west assures for it a still more dominating position in the future.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

It was the belief of most wheat traders last night that there would be numerous rallies of short duration, and that prices would work irregularly lower until the export and foreign situation is cleared. Commission houses were largely conservative in their opinion, and while not advocating short sales except on bulges are inclined to take a rather bearish view of the general situation. There has been enormous liquidation among the big professionals, who are said to be practically all out, while the commission house holders of small lots have not all been liquidated. Practically all holdings of wheat and coarse grains last night showed losses.

There is a feeling in certain quarters that the corn market has been well liquidated, and that values are at a level where there is little profit on the short side. It was said that a few houses that have been bullish took their profits and turned moderately bullish. The country is not selling corn for any great extent. It is the argument of these who are bearish that the movement of new corn will start early this year, and the poor corn will eventually depress prices. Crop conditions are not without promise, but the short side too far at the present price level, as conservative operators see it.

Exports of domestic wheat concluded of four for the week ending Oct. 3 as compiled by the bureau of markets were 5,540,000 bu, compared with 4,873,000 bu the previous week and 7,417,000 bu last year. Total since July 1 is 85,233,000 bu, against 85,200,000 bu last year. Exports of corn for the week ending Oct. 3 were 1,181,000 bu, compared with 1,181,000 bu the previous week and 1,181,000 bu last year.

Light rains have been experienced throughout the greater part of the European wheat growing sections. More precipitation is wanted to facilitate seedling operations. In most countries plowing has made fair progress. The trade for the present is looking at the foreign conditions and the low speculative trade is working against values. Nearly all the big commission houses were on the selling side, and on the break those with northern connections, which sold early and have been active on the selling side the last few weeks, became large buyers of May.

GRAIN TRADERS TURN OVER DEALS TO ANOTHER FIRM

Simons, Day & Co. grain and stock commission house, transferred their operations to grain futures, aggregating 1,000,000 bu, mostly oats, to the First National Bank of Chicago.

The firm will liquidate its stock and other trades, most of which are said to show a profit. Their assets are tied up in spreads between the different futures in grains and between Chicago and the northwest and Winnipeg.

A statement issued by the firm says it is unable to take care of all its grain trades, and rather than have any confusion over margins it decided to transfer its open accounts. The business in grain futures has been taken over by Parrot Bros., who will operate in the Chicago, Minneapolis, and St. Louis markets.

The firm is a stock company, with $100,000 capital. Charles Baker is president and Joseph Simons treasurer.

The H. Pochler company of Minneapolis, one of the oldest commission houses in the northwest, suspended yesterday temporarily pending reorganization. The suspension is understood to be due to losses sustained last year through inability to get their money back from the country.

Interest in Chicago was small.

TRANSPORTATION is one of the most important items entering into the cost of everything we use. Rail rates and passenger fares are still up. Street cars and "L" remain at the peak. But the cost of automotive transportation has had a big drop during the past nine months. Read the following analysis of the automobile situation by Thomas J. Hay, President of the Automobile Trade Association of Chicago:

STUDENTS of business have come to regard the automobile market as one of the great economic barometers. For this reason unusual attention has been focused on the rise and fall of automobile prices, the output of factories, and other conditions in the industry.

It is, therefore, a matter of interest and gratification that registrations have increased materially in this territory during 1921. From January 1 to July 1, 1921, motor vehicle registrations increased over the corresponding period of 1920 as follows:

|-------------|--------|
| Illinois | 32,223 |
| Indiana | 12,183 |
| Michigan | 22,791 |
| Wisconsin | 22,476 |
| Four States | 89,673 |

DURING the same period 27 of our states showed decreases, but surely times are not very bad in the Central West when automobile registrations increase 89,673 over the high records of 1920.

Price reduction has been an important factor in maintaining the popularity of the automobile. Both initial cost and cost of operation have been reduced radically.

The price of automobiles has come down approximately one-fifth during the past year. Note the tabulation on this page listing 52 cars that show an average decrease of $454.

During the same period practically all of the accessories used on automobiles have been sharply reduced in price. The two articles most extensively used—tires and gasoline—have dropped, tires 40% and gasoline 32%.

THE INTENDING automobile purchaser should, therefore, look upon the present as a favorable time to purchase a car. The public has demanded reductions—the manufacturers have made reductions. But present prices cannot continue unless sufficient volume of business is created to enable factories to run at a satisfactory rate of production. Surplus stocks of cars have been moved. Factories are making cars as needed. Strange as it may seem, if the number of automobiles bought be greatly reduced, instead of bringing about additional price reductions, just the opposite will be true, because with a small output and fixed overhead it will be necessary to raise prices.

As noted above, a comparison of the average price of 52 different cars showed a drop of 20% in the last twenty months. But this does not tell the whole story for three reasons:

1. Automobiles did not have as great a rise in price as did many other commodities. If an article increased 100% over pre-war prices it would take a drop of 50% to bring it back. If it increased only 50% over pre-war prices it returns to normal by declining 33 1/3%.
2. Automobiles are better machines today than they ever were. It is unfair to compare the same identical make and model of today with that of any former year merely on a basis of price. A pound of sugar or a sack of flour are practically constant qualities, but automobile values are being increased each season by better design and improved construction.
3. Automobile values are being increased by giving better equipment—cord tires instead of fabric, bumpers, spot lights, etc.—sometimes in place of price cuts, sometimes in addition to price cuts.

OF PARTICULAR interest at this season is the fact that the cost of winter enclosures has come down 20% to 25% since last year, which is in line with the reductions on closed cars.

There was a time when the decreasing cost of automobile transportation would have been of importance only in summer. But with the extension of hard roads and boulevard systems the great majority of autos are now kept in service every month in the year. The trend, particularly in Chicago, is toward closed cars, which enable the owner to use his machine with maximum comfort in any kind of weather every day in the year.

AGAIN I want to emphasize this fact: Increased buying of automobiles will tend to gradually lower prices still more because of the economies incident to volume production, but more restricted buying will compel manufacturers to increase prices. Prices are down and it is the part of wisdom to buy now!

Thos. J. Hay

President Automobile Trade Association of Chicago.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE advertising has also decreased in cost during the year. Rates have remained the same, although circulation during the first six months has averaged 46,114 daily and 90,627 Sunday above the corresponding period of 1920. This Sunday increase, which advertisers receive at no additional cost, is double the entire circulation of one of Chicago's six dailies, and four times that of any paper in Illinois outside Chicago.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 6.
An agreement which

A tentative understanding

Reductions in all the sur
